Pi Kappa Alpha's Bryce Stiemert was voted the Southwestern Student Body President for the 2nd year in a row.

Pi Kappa Alpha's Ethan Bridges was elected Finance Chair for SU Student Government.

Matthew Peesker

"I joined the Southwestern Economic Society to accelerate my learning by connecting the economic theories learned in class to real-world events and situations. I am looking forward to the awesome guest speakers we have coming to talk with the society who will provide valuable insights throughout the semester. I am also excited for the opportunity to collaborate with fellow members in building an annual report that will showcase the key learnings the SU Economics Society made throughout the year."

President

Pi Kappa Alpha's Matthew Peesker not only started, but was was elected the Economics Society President at Southwestern this year. (see left)

Ryan Corbett

"I joined The Economics Society to learn more about economics with my surrounding peers. There are countless bright young minds at Southwestern within the fields of economics and business. As a unit, we will progress and learn more about the constantly evolving world of economics through creative conversation and experienced speakers. I am very optimistic about the annual report. A report of this caliber will make The Economics Society stand out when speaking to potential employers. It shows a high level of ambition and achievement of the students within the society."

Vice President

Pi Kappa Alpha's Ryan Corbett, Keegan Hardy, Will Crain, Sam McClure also helped start and were elected the Vice President, Treasurer, Micro Economist, Co-Public Relations of the SU Economics Society. (see right, left & below)

Sam McClure

"I joined the Economics Society because I really enjoy economics, and I wanted to be a part of something that could help other students enjoy and understand the importance of economics. I am looking forward to the amazing guest speakers we will have. They will bring a lot of interesting concepts into our program and give us a lot of neat things to include in our end of year report."

Co-Public Relations

William Crain

"I feel like Econ Society is a place where I can learn more about what I like, as well as create my own projects to further my personal career."

Micro Economist

Keegan Hardy

"I joined the econ society to first start something that I'm passionate about which is economics. I also feel it's a way to attract other people that aren't part of clubs or organizations on campus. This would be a great opportunity for people to innvase themselves in a great environment with people that have the same interests. I look forward to working on group projects with people in the club and doing some hands-on work. I feel this is very beneficial for people to work on something and be able to say they did something that contributed to the success of the club!"

Treasurer
